From the President

Hi All, remember a few months ago we were all complaining about the heat?
That's changed a bit and the aircons have all been switched over to heating
Good to get the rain though.
Welcome back Rob who has been of swanning around South Aus. Thank you to Fran and Marek who took over some of his workload while he was away.
We have recently had a few new members join the club who I am sure have no idea of the structure of Pétanque in this state so I thought I would give just a brief rundown.

There are six Pétanque clubs in the state, 5 in the city and one in Safety Bay. These 6 clubs form the league Pétanque W.A. Each club has two representatives on the committee of P.W.A. who are elected by their clubs committee. John Exeter and I are the reps for Subiaco. Pétanque W.A. comes under the governance of Pétanque Australia. P.W.A.s role is to promote Pétanque as a sport, to organise state competitions and to select teams to represent W.A. in national competitions. If anyone would like further details speak to John or myself
Don't forget Guys lunch this coming Wed if you haven't got your name down give me a call. July 7th is the Corcoran Trophy so let's see a great turnout of Subi players and make it a great day for all
See you on the piste
Val

Q&A

3. At the End of each End.

When does an end finish? An end finishes when all boules and the jack have stopped moving. The next end starts the moment the previous end finished, there is no time gap. Two examples will help:

– The last boule has been thrown and all boules have stopped moving. That end is over; therefore, the next end has started. A moment later the bell goes. So, you finish this new end and play one more end (+ a tie breaker if a draw).

– The last boule has been thrown but hits another boule which is still moving when the bell goes. So that end hasn't finished. Finish that end and play one more end (+ a tie breaker if a draw).

Who measures and awards the points? Contrary to many peoples' belief, measuring is not done by the losing team but by the team who last played that end. One point is scored for every one of the winner's boules that are closer to the jack than their opponent's nearest boule. The other team must stand well clear and not intervene while measuring is taking place. However at least one player should be watching to make sure no boule or jack were moved. This team may then check the measuring, getting an umpire if necessary.

Bon Anniversaire

Olympic ambitions

A gentle pastime, you say? Well, don't say that to the World Federation of the Sport of Boules. Founded in 1985 by three international boules organisations, the federation has fought for decades to get the game recognised as an Olympic sport. With Paris hosting the 2024 Olympic Games, it would have been a perfect time for this most French of traditions to finally be awarded the status that it craves. Alas, it was not to be, and the Olympic Games Organising Committee declared in 2019 that Pétanque had failed in its bid to become an Olympic event. Instead breakdancing, skateboarding, climbing and surfing will be the new sports on view in Paris in 2024

What's your IQ?

No need to worry. Nick and I have our third for the triples this weekend!

Thanks Marek for operating our Lottery Syndicate. I'm sure a big win is on the horizon. NB: It's time to pay $60 to him for the next 6 months entries. Don't miss out!

I'm sure you all have come across LOL and ETA but the above is a list of others you may not know, and we don't want the grandchildren to think we are ancient do we? Next time you email them why not add a few in?

Rob Dunlop has been beyond the black stump. Guy has been on a cruise and visited his daughter in Byron Bay. Nick has been to K Mart (twice). Michel and Beryl are lapping up Andorra after enduring some ordinary weather in France

This week we recycled 804 items for $80.40. Grand total now:
$5,981.40

Total for June: $134.50

Saturday 6th July Lorna and John Beamish
Saturday 13th July Lida Valkova
Saturday 20th July AGM Mary Willis
Saturday 27th July Vlasta Thomas

This week's quiz question is to name the nationalities of the players in the picture. Or let's play spot the Australian! Who says it's not an international sport and should it not have been in the Olympics? Anyway, it looks like a fierce competition.
